Bursary

A bursary is typically an award for a student with financial need. Bursaries may have academic requirements, but are generally focused on helping students who do not have the resources to pay for school on their own. Applications for bursaries typically require you to show you are in need of the assistance and how great your need is.

Scholarships

Traditionally, scholarships are based on academic merit, such as an entrance scholarship which is awarded based on the grade average from high school. Modern usage of the term, however, is much more liberal, with providers of non-academic awards using the term to describe any financial prize that will be used towards tuition payment. Scholarship application procedures are different for each scholarship, but can include a request for your academic transcripts.

Money to Help

The AYA program provides up to a maximum of $1,250 per month to cover living expenses while you go to school or do job training, or attend rehabilitation, mental health, or life skills programs.

These living expenses include things like food and rent for you and your children if you have any.

Education and skills training programs: An AYA can support you while you attend school or job training. Tuition and other expenses are generally covered by the Youth Education Assistance Fund \(YAEF\) or the Provincial Tuition Waiver Program. If not, an AYA may help pay for your books, uniforms, and any other expenses required by the education program.

Rehabilitation programs

An AYA can support you while you attend a rehabilitation program such as a mental health, addictions or substance use program, or a cultural healing and wellness program. If you've completed a residential treatment program for alcohol and drug use and now require support to keep from relapsing, a post-treatment support program can be part of your plan. Your worker can help you create a strategy to achieve your goals.

Life Skills programs

An AYA can support you while you take a self-directed or facilitated life skills program. Life skills programs are meant to help you to gain skills and provide hands-on guidance in things like managing your money, time management, decision-making and problem solving so that you can achieve your goals. A worker can help you to understand the life skills that you want to learn and to develop a plan.

Length of an Agreement

Through discussion with a worker, the length of your agreement will be worked out based on your needs and the program you are on. You can have more than one agreement, for a total of up to 48 months (4 years) of support.

For example, you could:

- Attend a life-skills or rehabilitation program for six months with AYA support
- Work for a year without an AYA
- Then, go back to school and enter into another AYA

AYAs do not extend past the day of your 27th birthday.

List of available life skills Programs

Apply for an Agreement

Step 1 Four to six weeks before the program you're interested in begins, complete an application form \(PDF\). In the section "Program and Support Need" describe the program you'd like to take and what kind of financial assistance or other support you may need.

Step 2 Mail or drop off your application form:

- Find a local Ministry of Children and Family Development \(MCFD\) office

Step 3 Within two weeks, a social worker will contact you to prepare a written plan together that explains your goals and the support you need to reach them.

Besides outlining what the provincial government or social worker will do to help you with your plan, this meeting will also outline what's expected of you. For example, you will need to complete one of the following requirements:

- 60% course load in an educational or skills training program (40% if you have a permanent disability)
- A minimum of 5 hours a week participation in a rehabilitation program (i.e. mental health or substance use program including cultural healing and wellness)
- A minimum of 5 hours a week participation in an individualized or facilitated life skills program related to one or more of the following domains: education, health and wellness, financial literacy, social skills, employment, housing, and cultural learning and connection
- Any combination of educational, skills training, life-skills and/or rehabilitation program time that equals at least 10 hours a week

We know that sometimes there may be life circumstances in which you are not able to meet the minimum requirements for example, the course load requirement can be too challenging. If young adults need additional flexibility, the ministry or Indigenous Child and Family Services Agencies (ICFSA) are ready to help.

BC FOSTER PARENT ASSOCIATION BURSARIES

The General Scholarship Fund

BCFPA occasionally receives funds from donors who request that the funds be put toward scholarships for children and youth who were formerly in care. The Board of Directors has outlined a General Scholarship Fund into which we can place donations from these generous donors. Unless directed to do otherwise, scholarships will be distributed under the name of the donor(s) until the funds are expended.

One bursary will be distributed annually to any youth who is or has been in the care of the Ministry and wants to pursue further education.

JCW Excellence in Writing and Leadership Grant

Previous BCFPA President, Russell Pohl and his husband, Darrell Ewasiuk, have generously provided funds to establish a grant in the name of our Executive Director, Jayne (Cotter) Wilson, whose passion is the art of writing. This grant is accessible to any youth aged 19 or over who has been in the care of the Ministry and who intends to further their education in the field of writing – whether it be journalism, screen or play writing, poetry, travel, creative, political or non-fiction, can apply for this grant to cover the cost of courses that will further their skills.

NEW as of January 2023 We are expanding the grant to support young people who are pursuing post-secondary education in the field of Human and Social Services, and who want to demonstrate leadership and a commitment to their communities.

The William Curtis Memorial Fund Bursary

The William Curtis Memorial Fund, which is awarded annually, has been established for youth formerly in care who wish to continue their education.

PUBLIC GUARDIAN AND TRUSTEE EDUCATIONAL ASSISTANCE FUND

History

The Public Guardian and Trustee Educational Assistance Fund was established in June 1989. The Fund was derived from the generous donations of three private benefactors. The charitable intention of all three benefactors was to financially assist British Columbians in pursuing educational development for their future careers. In establishing the Fund, the government of British Columbia has attempted to reflect the charitable intentions of the original benefactors. Since 1989, the Fund has provided annual bursaries to individuals who meet the requirements of the terms of the trust document and demonstrate a strong desire to develop a future career path through their educational goals.

Purpose

The purpose of the Fund, as set out in the trust document is, "to assist any beneficiary selected under the provisions of the Trust to further his or her educational goals, whether academic or vocational, provided that the bursary shall not be used as a sole means of support but rather as a supplement to existing funding to cover shortfalls in fees, books, maintenance and/or transportation which might otherwise cause the individual affected to terminate his or her studies prematurely."

In accordance with the trust document, annual bursaries are awarded to individuals "who are over the age of 19 years, and have been permanent wards of the Superintendent of Family and Child Service in the Ministry of Social Services and Housing (or its successors), and who meet the criteria deemed appropriate by the Trustee."

Bursaries

Successful applicants are awarded annual bursaries ranging in value up to a maximum of approximately $4,530.00 (amount is indexed annually with the cost of living).

Eligibility

Applications are evaluated on the following criteria:

1. General Eligibility

An applicant must:

- be a former permanent ward of the Ministry of Social Services of British Columbia, its predecessor or successor, or have been in continuing custody of the British Columbia Ministry for Children and Family Development under the Child, Family and Community Services Act or predecessor laws;

- be at least 19 years of age as of the date studies commence;
- be a high school graduate or equivalent currently enrolled or planning to enroll in a post-secondary academic, technical or vocational program;
- submit a completed current year application form;
- provide transcripts from the last year of school attended; and
- have other sources of funding for the educational year. The bursary shall not be the sole means of support.

(Note: Permanent ward or continuing custody means a child, who by court order, was placed in the permanent or continuing custody of the Province of British Columbia. The custody order terminated when the child attained the age of 19 years, was married prior to attaining the age of 19 years, or the court cancelled the order prior to the child attaining the age of 19 years.)

2. Financial Need

An applicant must:

- demonstrate a financial shortfall which might cause the individual to be unable to pursue their studies;
- have some means of financial support other than the bursary;
- demonstrate an inability to access additional means of financial support to make up the shortfall; and
- provide an estimated descriptive budget for the upcoming academic year based on reasonable expenses and reasonable means of financial support.

3. Post Academic Performance

An applicant must demonstrate:

- an academic, technical or vocational ability to pursue the intended educational goal; and
- an academic, technical or vocational commitment to obtaining the educational goal.

4. Career Goals

An applicant must demonstrate:

- a clear career goal;
- a direct relationship between the educational goal and the career goal;
